DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites the limitation "said tapering bore" in line 7 for the second rotatable component. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over DE 20304793U1, hereinafter DE.

DE discloses in Figs 1-4, a spice grinder comprising a first static component [shaft seat 2 and fixed seat 3], a second rotatable component [rotating seat 6, lifting seat 5 and grinding device 4] which fits on the first static component, the first static component having a tapering bore with teeth projecting inwardly from a surface of the tapering bore, the second rotatable component having a toothed portion thereof in the tapering bore [Fig 1], the first static component and the second rotatable component both configured with interlocking circumferentially extending ribs and the second rotatable component includes a spider comprising spokes 52 with openings there between.

Any remaining limitations not disclosed in the reference would then been obvious design choice once the basic structure was known, as it solves no stated problem and of no patentable merit [see pages 4 and 5 of the specification].

6. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over CH 351726 A, hereinafter CH.

CH discloses in Figs 1-2, a spice grinder comprising a first static component [fitting 5], a second rotatable component [rotor 3] which fits on the first static component, the first static component having a tapering bore with teeth projecting inwardly from a surface of the tapering bore, the second rotatable component having a toothed portion thereof in the tapering bore, the first static component and the second rotatable component both configured with interlocking circumferentially extending ribs and the second rotatable component includes a spider comprising spokes with openings there between [Figs 1 and 2 and page 1 lines 18-49 of the specification].

Any remaining limitations not disclosed in the reference would then been obvious design choice once the basic structure was known, as it solves no stated problem and of no patentable merit [see page 1 lines 18-49 of the specification].
